My sincere sympathies to my cousins and their families on the loss of someone so dear to all of us. And to his father, who raised him to be a great human being.

Mark was a good son. He served in the US Air Force for twenty years. I have many fine memories of him growing up.

Mark and I grew up together in Brooklyn before he became my cousin, and then, again, we became friends. His laughter and smile will always fill my heart with smiles. His mom has him now, so he'll never be lonesome. The last time we spoke, my cheeks hurt from laughing, remembering all our old times as kids and all the trouble we got into. He agreed, it was mostly him :) Mark caught the garter at my wedding, what a great time that was with all the family. The world will miss you Mark.
